

New Ways' Work-Based Learning Toolkits

Field-tested Work Based Learning Tools all in one place, customized for your school, district, workforce board, college or business.

The future is now

You understand the power of work-based learning. Gone are the days of lectures, testing and research in a vacuum. The future belongs to those who embrace the alliance of education and classroom instruction and training with hands on experience, putting lessons into practice and developing real world skills in the real world. As you build capacity to provide these opportunities for the young people you serve, New Ways to Work is here to help.

Efficient, effective, easy to use

Our Work Based Learning Toolkits supply educators, coordinators, young people and employers with customized, comprehensive, tangible methods to help turn theory into practice. All in one place, all tailored to your needs, all customized with your branding.

Why Work-Based Learning?

- Takes education away from “teaching to the test” and provides relevance in the context of real life
- One set of standards, one common approach
- Supports teachers, coordinators, students and employers

Our Toolkits:

- Provide instant support for teachers, trainers and coordinators charged with implementing work-based learning
- Are constantly evolving with ongoing updates, new tools and the latest information
- Apply materials that have been improved and refined based on the experiences of thousands of teachers, school staff and intermediaries from across the country
- Are customizable and adaptable. You can quickly have your own private labeled and branded on-line toolkit customized to your audience up and running

Why New Ways to Work?

- We do the heavy lifting; you reap the benefits
- We have a proven history of success across the country
- We connect you to a nationwide community of implementers to draw in fresh practices and state of the art processes
- We can include or develop custom content from your programs
- We can provide ongoing training and support
- Maintenance and ongoing continuous improvement options are available
- We offer an Employer Engagement module
- Our toolkits are easily adaptable to your community or program
